I'm interested in WTT live Events broadcast. How can I get access?

Interested people may request access by doing one of the following:

1) Send an email to wtt-live@masters-call.net requesting access. In-turn, the requester will receive an invitation from WTT-live admin, using which the requester can create an account on WiZiQ.com and will be automatically notified of future live sessions by an email notification.

--- OR ---

2) If you already happen to have an account on <http://www.WiZiQ.com>, login to the account. In home page/dashboard, there will be a "Quick Invite" box towards right hand side of the screen. Using this box, send an invite to email address wtt-live@masters-call.net.

After either of above, kindly ensure that wtt-live@masters-call.net is part of your contacts list. You may check this by going to the "Contacts" tab on top of your WiZiQ home page/dashboard.

What is this website WiZiQ.com?

For the purpose of live audio/video broadcast of WTT events and Master's discourses, we are using this 3rd party web service provider called WiZiQ (<http://www.wiziq.com>). WiZiQ provides for virtual classrooms. This service will be used for our live broadcasting purposes for near future till a more permanent arrangement is made.

I already signed up for Masters-Call.net. Can I access the live broadcast?

For time being, no. You need to register for an account at <http://www.wiziq.com>. Kindly refer to previous questions for the registration process.

What do I need to do after registering at WiZiQ? How do I know of scheduled live sessions?

After registering at <http://www.wiziq.com> and logging in, ensure that wtt-live@masters-call.net is part of your contacts by clicking on "Contacts" tab on top. From this point onwards, any future sessions that are scheduled will be notified by email to all the registered participants.

The user may join the session, by clicking the link in the email notification. Usually session reminders are sent before the meeting.

Also, when the user logs into the WiZiQ account, the upcoming sessions are displayed on the home page/dashboard. Additionally you may also go to “Classes” tab (on top) after logging into wiziq.com. This would display the user’s calendar which should have the WTT Live events on it. User may launch the session, by clicking the even in the calendar and following further instructions.

Is there any FEE associated with this service?

No. There is no fee for accessing the WTT-Live events. This is open for all registered users. The free account at WiZiQ is sufficient for you, premium account is not necessary.

How do we know the event time (local time) in relation to the Time Zone of the venue of the WTT event?

Kindly make sure that you provide your local time zone in your account settings, when you sign-up for WiZiQ account. When an event is scheduled, every user will receive a notification email about the event. This email is personalized for every user and would have the timings of the event in user’s own timezone. Kindly note that, if anyone is trying to use a notification email received by another user (usually forwarded by users to various groups), then the timings in that invitation could be misleading.
