

Message for Teachers' Day

The only hope of humanity is the Teacher. Teacher-student relation is by far the most sublime relation among many other valuable relations that humans develop. A true teacher can mould a human to be a man of immense utility to the society by imparting not only education but also values which are universal. A teacher lays foundation for the growth of the human in multi dimensional ways. He can even pave the way for the human to be immortal.

Teacher's day celebration, truly speaking is in paying utmost respect to teacher and re-affirmation of students that they follow the Path of development indicated by the teacher. By such affirmation the student stays firm on the Path.

A society where a teacher is respected and where his teachings are followed, such society undoubtedly flourishes. A teacher is always a teacher. He is teacher to the king and to the commoner. He should be respected and once in a year the student should express veneration towards teacher, to gain the blessings for further progress. A Teacher's day cannot be taken casually and be conducted in a routine. A routine mind derives not the essence of life. A routine function relating to a teacher is more a mockery of a sublime function.

Let the students comprehend the depth of the function relating to Teachers day. Let the student whole heartedly pledge to follow the teacher and the teaching.

India has been traditionally a special country that upheld the teacher-student relation. Let the rich tradition be upheld through appropriate practice.

I wish the teachers and students gain their natural, original status and cause a forward movement in society for its well being.
