Ugadi New Year – 11th April 2013

Message for the year by Master K.Parvathi Kumar

Vijaya New Year Greetings to all the brotherhood of WTT. This new year is as per the lunar calendar. As per the Solar Calendar, the year started on 21st March itself. I pray to the hierarchy of Masters that all of us are bestowed with good health both physically and mentally and also expand in consciousness.

It is said in Bhagavatam "Even the greatest of knowers do not know Time completely." Then why do we talk about it? It is just for the sake of remembering time so that Time recognizes us and would be pleased with us. The more you observe the flow of time, more the time would be pleased with you. Lord Krishna said "All the accounts of the transactions that you make are maintained and their fruits are presented to you with time." There will be no errors in those accounts and every penny is accounted for. There will be both favourable and unfavourable instances in life. The unfavourable incidents happen as a result of ignorant actions that we did in the past and they are to be utilized to gain knowledge so that the same mistakes are not repeated in future. Once we learn our mistake with the help of unfavourable situations, our past debts are cleared. This is common for each and every being born normally. The beauty of life is not experienced if you don't face both favourable and unfavourable situations.

We are in the path of the Masters and we have an aspiration for transforming ourselves by following the path prescribed by the Masters. We should pray to them and to time as well that we are aspiring for a good change and we wish that the time would be favourable to us and also the unfavourable events do not affect us much.

If we spend this day in recollection of time by attending the Panchanga Sravana (Astrological Predictions for the year), it will ensure that the time would be favourable towards us for the rest of the year. If we see the astrological chart everyday, the time would then also be favourable towards us. Time is fiery in nature because Rudra is time and Rudra is fire as well. We should pray to time so that its fiery nature does not affect us much. Especially presently, time is very fiery in nature.

This year Ugadi falling on Thursday can be considered auspicious as Thursday is presided by Jupiter, the Master. All those who are under the grace of a Master, will surely be protected this year. Jupiter, the Master is the king ruling this year. Everyday we should remember the presiding planet of that day and live that day in accordance with the nature of working of that planet.

Master EK wished that all the members of WTT should know their astrological charts. We should know where the planets are present in our charts. I have told the same to our western brotherhood and many of them know their astrological charts now. When this knowledge is present in you, the time would be pleased with you. First observe the positions and movements of planets in the zodiac daily for some days. Then you can inquire into the significance of a planet in a particular house. Gradually when your knowledge and recollection of time increases, the time reveals itself to you.

Apart from this, daily worship should happen. You may worship any deity of your liking but you should remember that the all pervading divine principle is expressing through that deity. Cleanliness and purity are important for worship to be fruitful.

The name of this year is Vijaya. The name itself is very good. Vijaya means Victory or Success. We all wish that our life should be a success. We should also pray that the lives of all should be successfully. That is, we should pray that that all the righteous ones should be happy and non-righteous ones should become righteous. We should not pray for the happiness of non-rightness as their happiness would bring problems to the righteous ones. So we should pray for the transformation of such ones.

If we see the astrological chart, the Uranus is present in Aries and there are also many other planets present in that house, by which we can say that there are chances for a war to take place. As long as Uranus is in Aries, this situation would continue. Aries is very turbulent and hyperactive in nature; so is Uranus and as a result some nations are oriented towards war and turmoil in the world. Also when lot of planets accumulates in one sign, what happens is that sign suffocates and as a result it vomits out its nature even more vigorously. Today you can see that sun, moon and mars are also present in Aries.

There are some nations which want to occupy the land of other nations. At present, we have a nation which very much wants to start a war to show its domination over a powerful nation. All this is due to the suffocation of Aries. We hope that it would not take place but there are chances for it. What keeps a war at bay is the fear of retaliation because everyone has weapons and war results in a two way loss. So this eagerness counter balances the eagerness to wage a war but chances are there. There are also some nations which were invaded and defeated badly in the past and now they are also planning for retaliation, after regaining their strength. Terrorism is one form of such retaliation.

There are also chances for water related disasters like Tsunamis, Cyclones, etc. as well as earthquakes. There are some places in certain nations which are very vulnerable to such disasters. Places like Miami & Florida in America, islands in Asia, some coastal regions in India are vulnerable to Tsunamis and Cyclones. All the natural disasters take place according to the past karma of the people of those lands. There will always be a cause for natural happenings.

Also the economic condition does not seem to be very well. Especially the condition in Europe is very bad. The condition in American continents is also not so good. As the developed countries are not good in economically, they will not allow the developing countries to do well. So all in all economically the world is not so good.

The whole scenario in the world is expected to improve by 2015. So that is how this year is expected to be.

Coming to India. Indians have always lived by faith in god and never depended much on rulers. India did not have a good ruler for a very long time now. After Ashoka left his kingship and became a Buddhist monk, India did not produce a good ruler till today. We lost our freedom to the British for many years only because there was no strong ruler and protector. That is why the political situation in India has also become very poor. We now need a good ruler otherwise the situation would become worse. So we should pray to Vishnu, the ruler of the creation to present us with a good ruler so that situation would become better. That is why we chanted Narayana Kavacham today after prayer. As this year starts with Jupiter as presiding deity, the Master himself would become the ruler for this year. So we should pray to the Masters as well that we are presented with a good ruler.

We should also try to live by the way of life prescribed by our Master. There are many instructions and practices given of which we can chose some and follow so that we are graced by the Master. Our mere effort for betterment would please the Master.

The economic situation in India is not good because of the huge gap that is being created between the rich and poor. In the villages, the buying costs have fallen and selling costs in the towns and cities are rising. The reason is middlemen, large scale business, who are looting on both sides.

India has been an agricultural nation and we used to export food grains to the other nations as well. We used to completely depend on agriculture. There is a cruel plan being worked out to disturb the agricultural status of India. Foreign Investors buy the agricultural lands and they start controlling the production. The owners of land become labour working in the same land. It is similar to what happened in Australia sometime back. The only thing that we can do is to pray that such a plan would not work out. Even our state Andhra Pradesh is in a worse state. Our state is ruled by Scorpio and Saturn is present in Scorpio.

So the time in the world is not so favourable and the only thing that we can do is worship. Keep following the daily astrological chart. If possible, you can relate it to your own astrological chart and the time would surely grace you. Our worship should also be for the welfare of all and not our own welfare because if the welfare of all is ensured, our personal welfare is also ensured.

Now we will have the prediction of individual signs. You remember one thing. The prediction is never common to all. The time may appear good to one sign due to the presence of a planet but that good may not apply to us if that planet is not in a good position in our chart and the vice versa also applies. There are lots of factors that determine how situations manifest in our life. So the prediction is for the sake of recollecting time and to be graced by it and not for us to think that everything would happen as told.
