“Master CVV's Birthday Celebrations”

Evening Discourse by Master Parvathi Kumar on 04th of August, 2018

Radhamadhavam, Vizag.

On this occasion of Master CVV's 151st birthday, my hearty fraternal greetings to the brothers and sisters who have gathered here for evening prayer. Today we have the release of book “Ayurveda” written by Master EK. It was first printed in 1983 and now we have the 3rd re-print being released today. By reading this book, we develop a basic awareness of the science of ayurveda and we get an a good idea of how to lead our daily life as per the principles stated by Auyurveda. The constitution of man is described in this book followed by description of why people get sick and then different cures in Ayurveda. The food habits that one should develop are also described. Also, the significance of exercise is given in this book. So, interested people can get this book and read it thoroughly.

In the morning, we had a long discourse of around 110 minutes. I pray to the Master that I complete the evening discourse in an hour or so that you all have dinner and go home early and go to sleep by relating to Master CVV. We can keep on discussing many things about Master CVV but the basic objective is to recollect and relate to Master CVV.

Master EK wrote a poem on Master CVV. Master CVV encourages practice but not praise. Still out of inspiration some people wrote poems praising Master CVV and there is one such written by Master EK himself. I will sing the poem first and then we will discuss some of the aspects given in that poem.

(Master sang the poem which is in Telugu).

Master CVV represents the Aquarian energy in this Aquarian age which has begun in the 18th century. The effect of Uranus and sign of Aquarius can be strongly felt on this planet ever since the advent of Aquarian age. In this age, all superstitious beliefs and unnecessary rules will go away. For example, doing prayer is essential but wearing so and so clothes while doing prayer is not essential. You can wear any dress which is comfortable to you. Doing prayer is essential but not sitting in a specific posture is not essential. You can sit in any posture which is comfortable to you.

We should move towards Oneness and not differentiate people based on the differences. All are Divine beings. All are souls with pulsating consciousness. This is common to each one of us. All of us have awareness though the degree of awareness is different. Each one of us might have different identity depending on where we are born, into which family we are born and so on but the diversity should be seen as splendour but not really as differences. So, learn to see the diversity as Divine splendour and try to see the oneness in all things and beings. Then we move closer to the Master or Divine consciousness.

We should remember that it is the ONE consciousness which descended as Master CVV, Master MN and Master EK. If we see them as different, then you can go nowhere near Master consciousness. The objective of Aquarian energy is to take us towards oneness. The Aquarian energy does not recognise any religion. If one is stuck to a religion, then one cannot relate to the ONE consciousness. We should be able to accept any name or form of Divine followed by any religion in this world. We can relate to the Divine in any language of convenience. It is the sound that is important in a mantra and not the language. That is why Master CVV gave mantras even in English to make us realise that language is not important.

Remember that the Aquarian energy stands beyond all forms, all names, all religions, all languages, all colours and all sounds. It is an energy which accepts all the above with no differentiation and discrimination.

As per Master CVV, only prayer is important. What you wear during prayer, how you sit during prayer, whether you take bath or not and so on does not matter. Once you sit for prayer and invoke, you are connected to absolute which is beyond all these non-essential things. So why do they matter? All the non-essential traditions and customs are eliminated. You may or may not follow them as per your convenience but do not get stuck in them. Do not think that those customs are to be followed at any cost. Remember that relating to the Divine is more important than following the traditional customs. Following customs is optional.

Relating to the Divine in everything is most important. If you think that the Divine is present only in the temple or church or mosque, then you are restricting your relation to Divine to very few places. Is the Divine not present in a mall, in a market, in a theatre, etc? Do not restrict your understanding of Divine to few places, names, forms or times. You can relate to the Divine at every place, in every name, in every form and at any time. This is a detailed meaning of the first stanza of this poem. It says that Master CVV stands for the Aquarian energy which takes us towards Oneness in all. He removes all our limitations and makes us realise ourselves as Brahman.

Master CVV took birth in Kumbhakonam because even in the past, the Aquarian energy has descended in Kumbhakonam. So, he took birth in Kumbhakonam and received the Aquarian energy there. With that energy, he promised to remove all our hidden circumferences which are binding us. The circumferences first expand and gradually disappear. That is when we become one with the Divine.

In the 2nd stanza, Master EK tells about the promises made by Master CVV. Master CVV promised that he will take care of us completely if we are sincere in our prayer. He will do the necessary repairs in the form and transform our personality. He promised to neutralise our karma. He will ensure that we create no more karma by elevating our thought process to a higher state. He promised to lead us to a state where we no more exist. So, we will have no more thoughts of “me, my, mine, my people”. If we are able to see the Divine in all, there is no differentiation of mine and others. He promised to train us to become mediums for the Divine plan.

In the next stanza, the work of Master CVV is described. Master CVV brought about changes in the working of planetary principles. One can refer to the book “Uranus” for more details. It is very surprising to know what kind of changes Master CVV has brought about in the working of the planetary principles. With these changes, a new astrology has come into effect. For those in the path of Master CVV, the planets affect them in a different way. Even healing happens in mysterious ways. One day, Master EK gave the same Homeo medicine to everyone who came to dispensary irrespective of the disease. He called it “Master Homeo”. It is different from the original principles of Homeopathy. When we are associated with the Master energy, anything can happen.

Next stanza tells that the formation of subtle body becomes very easy for those who are very sincere in the path of Master CVV. Master CVV promised immortality to everyone who follows the path sincerely. In the book “Music of the Soul”, whatever happened with Master DK would become true to each of us who follow Master CVV. You will be introduced to a subtle life where you start working with a subtle form, receive impressional teachings, meet beings already working in those planes and so on.

In the final stanza, Master EK tells that one who follows the path of Master CVV, one will have a fulfilled life both in objectivity and subjectivity. Master CVV promised to be present in every house where his picture is present and where Master prayer is done regularly. So, prayer is most essential to all of us. Do not get stuck in non-essential things and as a result forget the Divine. Let that not happen in the name of traditions and customs. Freewill is an important aspect of Aquarian age. It brings about lot of changes in our thoughts. People will gradually learn to look beyond all the identities of nations, religions, castes, races, etc. We should learn to look within. Apparent is not real. We need to develop an insight. We need to associate with those who follow the path we aspire to follow. Such ones become our brothers and sisters, at the soul level. If we with the Aquarian energy, we can develop such an insight.

We need to move from temporary things to things which are more permanent and subtler. That is the way in which Master CVV will lead us. Master EK demonstrated to us how we should lead our lives in this path. So, let us follow them to progress in the path.
