Hearty greetings and good wishes to all the brothers and sisters

The whole creation is prepared with a fourfold vision unless there is a fourfold demarcation the creation is not complete. There is a demarcation of above and below, subtle and gross, and there is also a demarcation of left and right. The one spiritual air is divided in Gemini in duality and in Libra in above and below, mundane and supermundane. Thus there is a vertical division and a horizontal division which causes fullness into four parts or four pieces. The existence and the awareness they remain undivided despite of the union. Existence is not visible. Awareness is not visible. All division is apparent. Therefore to feel the fullness of oneself and the fullness of the Creation, man needs to learn that the division is only meant for facility and not for an absolute demarcation. For example, we see on the globe east and west, the upper hemisphere and the lower hemisphere, but it is only one globe. It's one globe, one light / life, it's spherical and it's full by itself. For understanding, we divide it into northern hemisphere and southern hemisphere, and we divide it into east and west. So there is a vertical division in us to the planet. Likewise there is a division in us, more as a facility, than to be seen as an absolute division. We don't really see the division when we are able to see. When we move from, let's say, Belgium to Germany, it's only by the border that we notice that this is Germany, and not by nature. By nature we cannot see that this is Germany, it's only by the border. Borders do not exist, but they exist for certain facility, for certain governors / governments. Likewise waters also we don't find a division, where the Indian Ocean concludes and the Atlantic begins or where the Indian Ocean concludes and the Pacific begins. There is no visible division. It's a facility for action, they're not absolute. Likewise when we consider wisdom, we consider the wisdom in a variety of sciences, but every science by itself is not complete. It's a facility for understanding. All sciences are but one nature. It's our understanding of nature in different ways. So through every science we have to understand the unity. If the synthesis is forgotten and only analysis maintained, we continue to live divided in our consciousness though in truth consciousness is not divided. We build artificial limitations to ourselves. There is an equator in each one of us with the diaphragm and there is the higher part of the body and the lower part of the body, but we don't feel that we are divided. There is a horizontal division of the human form with the diaphragm, and there is an upper part and a lower part. We call the upper part the positive node, and the lower part as the negative node. Together it is one complete unit. The lower part is considered mundane, the upper part is considered divine. Since most of us live in the solarplexus, we tend to be mundane. If we stay in any centre higher than diaphragm, we tend to be supermundane. If you tend to be supermundane, you don't have to reject the mundane. When we are in the mundane, we don't have to reject the supermundane. They both are complementary to each other, the mundane and the supermundane. We feel that we are one person and we don't feel that we are two separate beings we can separate into the lower and the higher. Libra makes the division of higher and lower, mundane and supermundane, passion for form and passion for life. Passion for the light and passion for the matter. The upper and the lower. The lower forms the basis for the upper. When we are able to see the fitness of the higher and the lower, the passion takes to the right dimension. There is no excessive orientation to the form aspect, there is also no excessive orientation to the light aspect. That's why Libra plays a great role to accept with neutrality that which is mundane and that which is divine. If any of them is missing, it would be imbalanced. When we reject spirit there is imbalance, when we reject matter there is imbalance. So spirit turns to matter and matter turns to spirit through time. So accepting their play is possible when we balance the two in us. The religions that keep on discarding the material part of the world, are trying to hug the spiritual part have never succeeded. They only left people in confusion, in conflict and led them into a crisis. Rejecting material has been a great ignorance that has happened in the age of Kali. It is an act of Kali. Kali has excellent tricks with it. The age of Kali wants that we are bound by material. Therefore Kali says reject material. That which you reject gets back to you much more strongly. That's the psychology. That which you don't want, you think more and more and more about it. Energy follows thought. And that which you don't want happens mostly. A negative desire is much more powerful than a positive desire. So if you don't want something you are already in a problem. If you want something you're in problem. If you don't want something you're in even deeper problem. Flowing with the time, doing what is to be done, helps you to remain unconditioned. Creating this divide between spirit and matter and trying to reject the matter has been a great game by which Kali is surviving stronger than ever. So Libra wants that we do not divide things into low or high. The message of Libra is, be in the centre, between the above and the below. What you think is inferior is the counterpart of what you think is superior. Therefore, to decide, to divide, to judge is not wisdom. To see how it is is wisdom. We can see how it is, in what blend is the matter and spirit, there are different blends of matter and spirit. The flower has a combination of spirit and matter, but the stem by which the flower is held is a different blend of spirit and matter. The earth from which it grows has still a different combination of matter and spirit. In the involutionary process there is more matter, and in the evolutionary process there is more visibility of spirit. We love the flower, we do not pay attention to the stem. Where from has the flower come? Which was existing before? Which is more important, the stem or the flower? This more important business is the mind's trick on us. The stem is as important as the flower. You can't say the stem is more important than the flower. We don't decorate stems, there has to be a flower. When the flower comes from the stem. Choosing a part of the whole has been the game that ignorant religions have got into. They neither have this nor that dimension. Therefore to see the involutionary process that happens in, say, seven regular steps that there are places where the spirit is more than the matter, and there are areas where gradually it takes to a place where the spirit and the matter are equal, and then they take to further gradations where the matter is more than the spirit. So when we use these words more and more it is there are areas in us where the spirit is more visible, more comprehensible. There are areas where the spirit is hidden by the matter. The spirit is not there, it is hidden by the matter. To see this play of matter and spirit, to see them both enables us to respect the seven gradations of the ONE. Therefore when we see someone as brother. Wolfgang said yesterday there came a man fully drunk. The normal tendency is to look down on men who are drunk and look down on men who speak untruth. It's a normal tendency to look down on men with vices, but they are men. That is forgotten. They are basically men and women. That they smoke that they drink it's a quality, but basically they are men and women. By this basic understanding in you there is no dissection. In you, when there is no dissection you relate to them with neutrality. Otherwise you do not. That is what Libra teaches. To see the different combinations of spirit and matter. It's by that difference that some is coarse and some is fine. Some is tender some is hard. Everything has its own fitness. The stone is hard, but without stone there are no structures, solid structures. So we cannot reject stones and only accept plants. We cannot reject plants and only accept animals. We cannot reject animals and only accept men. All are needed. Likewise from above onwards there are cosmic, solar and planetary angels, man, animal, plant and mineral. All seven grades, their energies are arranged in that manner, even in us, it's all one wholesome unit. Without one the other is not there. We can permeate into all planes but we do not reject any. If you do that in you the Libra centre tends to be neutral. When Libra tends to be neutral when you relate to the world, you tend to be a perfect zodiac of ten sun signs. If you neutralize in you what you think is high and what is low, only then the Libra centre gets into neutrality. When the Libra centre gets into neutrality you have equanimity in relation to all that is around you. Then by that you have cleared managed and then you become a zodiac of 10 sun signs with Virgo and Scorpio becoming one sun sign. This is the first step in the path of realization. The second step is uniting the vertical division which is Gemini. Vertical division is male/female aspect. It is a division which is also an apparent division. Male/female division. There is no such division of male and female in the entire creation. There is at all times the male in female and female in male. At all times, there is female in male and male in female. As much as Eva came out of Adam, Adam also comes out of Eva. It's not one way. All of us have come out of a female womb. When it is one way, the other way is also there. The whole problem was that which we call God is called in the Scriptures as HE. That is a fundamental mistake. It is not he and it is not she. It is he in she, and she in he. And it is therefore called IT or THAT. THAT is not he, that is not she. It is not he, it is not she. It is IT. And fortunately in the New Age we started saying it as energy. So therefore when the Scriptures for want of language said God as He, the she was seen as inferior to he. There cannot be he without she. It is neither he nor she, when it is absolute. When it descends, who descends first? The two descend at the same time. Don't think, first one descends and then the other descends. It is concurrent descent of both. From absolute there is concurrent descent. And the concurrent descent and the subsequent descent also they are not separable. They are an interplay, the male and female. In us there is also he and she. Our she is the one that causes our activity. Our he is the support for the she to act around. As we wake up, she becomes active. When we wake up, the femininity becomes active and conducts the whole play with the support of the masculine energy or the male. There is a pole around which the femininity keeps on acting around the whole day regardless the gender. As we wake up until we sleep it only she that is in action with he as the support. He is like the pole, she is the activity around the pole. And all activity from the north pole to the south pole is supported. And varieties of actions are conducted by she. Today we see in the atom the activity of the electron which is the feminine activity, and the stability of the proton. With proton as the base the atom keeps on doing so many things. And all electronic activity is the activity of she. All creation activity is seen as the work of the Mother or nature or femininity. That cannot be so active unless there is the support of the masculine dimension. With masculinity as the base, the femininity keeps conducting, and the two disappear in the absolute. In a compass – which leg of the compass is important? Without the two legs there is no compass. And when you use the compass, one leg has to be stable, the other leg keeps on drawing things. Isn't it? You fix one leg, and with the other leg you keep on making circles ... you keep on doing so many things. The two legs cannot concurrently work. One has to be stable, and the other work. One immutable, the other is mutable. One is unchanging, the other is changing. So what are we doing in meditation? We try to join the moving thing with the unmoving thing. We try to join the moving energy with an unmoving energy. To experience the source of the two, without one the other is not there in Creation, and out of creation, two are not there, only one is there. That's why the Veda says it is that or it. It includes male and female, it's neither male nor female. This understanding of Gemini is needed for man. That's why Gemini stands for the final initiation for the humans who have made a very intelligible demarcation of male/female. A Master of wisdom is male/ female, he's just not male. In him the two are in great agreement. That's why he looks as much female as male. That's the beauty. Therefore he is attractive to males and also to females. The beauty is in its completeness when male/female are equally active within oneself. Until such balancing happens there is attraction of male for the female, and of the female for the male. What is deficient in us we try to fill up by relating to that aspect. When there is much need for female for the male, it looks for female. If there is much female and less male it looks for male. Until what time? Until male/female is equalized in oneself. What we call God, what we call an initiate is the one in whom both are equal. He is neither male nor female. His male agrees completely with his female, and his female agrees completely with the male. And vice versa. So when we see this vertical division as an apparent division, but it is not a true division, then in us the zodiac when Gemini gets neutralized we have a zodiac of 8 sun signs. That's when Gemini disappears. And when Libra disappears and Gemini disappears, there is no more division in us. Then we are complete. Complete. Rounded-up beings. All-round beings. Then we are said to be perfect. The fourfold division is more apparent but not real. And it is understood as a means of functioning in Creation, but it is not understood as absolute truth. So therefore we need to see what is apparent and what is real. What we call Christ consciousness or the world teacher, such a being has only a zodiac of 8 sun signs. And the one whom we call accepted disciple is the one who has no demarcation of high and low. When Libra is closed you are called an accepted disciple. If Gemini is closed you are called Christ. The Creation is made in a fourfold manner. And we can see this fourfold division for our understanding in all that is. If you see in a tree the roots, you see the trunk, you see the branches and then the stalks to the branches which give rise to the flowers or fruits, but it's all one to it. And it remains one at one time in the seed as such. Everything has its own appropriateness in it. There cannot be a clear-cut definition. As much as you clearly cut so much your consciousness is cut. Let it not be cut, let it flow with understanding. This is what came through the play, later we can have questions and answers. So now we have the program session.

Yes, Wolfgang...

Question: We are confronted with a world situation which is rather unstable. It looks as if the political, economic and social structures are falling apart with Uranus in Aries and Pluto in Capricorn. As disciples and human beings who want to live the ONE in all, we are confronted with these big challenges / problems. My question is now how can we be useful for the hierarchy or the hierarchical work and mankind at large in these times of change?

Answer: That's a very beautiful question. I can share one information with you that during this Vaisakh full moon there is a further unfolding of light. Just like the lotus unfolds, so much more significantly than before, when the lotus unfolds not only the light is well received, the primary and the base petals fall. In its flower the inner petals remain and the lower petals fall in due course of time. The outer petals they represent the past, the unfolding inner layers of petals represent the present. The petals which still require to unfold are the future. With the incoming solar ray the new petals open, the older petals fall to give way to the inner petals and the new unfoldment. This is what we see regularly with the flower. That is exactly what is offered by this Vaisakh full moon. Around the full moon of May there was a planetary configuration which provided a cross. It's a cross because Sun in Taurus, Moon in Scorpio and Pluto in Capricorn and Uranus in Aries have given rise to a new dimension. Every cross is a new beginning because the squares tend to be triangles in future. A square tends to be a triangle in future. So, there is a happening in the Higher Circles by which more light is shed on the planet. When we just say more light it's a very poor expression of what has been received and transmitted from Sanat Kumara to Hierarchy. The very name of the year is called Jaya, meaning "Fulfillment" or "Victory". It is victory for light. The major planets that are at work are the incoming energies from Neptune and the impacting energies of Uranus and Pluto cooperating which cause the needed changes in the structures. As you said, the social, economic and political structures are falling apart. It is needed. It is needed when we touch fall we give rise to a fresh beginning. It is a fresh beginning which is of greater justice and greater harmony. We have been witnessing in our life a lot of injustice through governments and social imbalances due to ignorant politics. So politics shall have to go through convulsions and the axis of Neptune, Uranus and Pluto – they work to cause the needed change. As I said yesterday, the major player is Uranus who conducts the change because it's a permeating energy. Nothing is impermeable to Uranus. It would get into the atom and break it. That's Uranus. Likewise all the valueless structures which are selfishly built through Piscean energies they shall have to be dismantled to rebuild afresh with justice. And further, the beginning is made in 2014 and the work is expected to be fast because Uranus is at work. A new world order will emerge between 2014 -2026. It's a Jupiterian cycle of 12 years. It's a period for the disciples to be joyous, to rejoice.

And then, what are we to do in relation to it? We need to relate to the Neptunian energies for which the medium is Lord Maitreya. Lord Maitreya is steering the Neptunian energies for this planet. And the work of Neptune is to give the bliss of existence with a higher dimension. Neptune in its higher dimension gives bliss of existence. Neptune in lower dimension puts people to illusion. So, now Uranus is at work. Uranus is a scientist, he's not a mystic. So he clears the illusions. Therefore, relating with Neptune and with Uranus, meaning relating with Master CVV and Lord Maitreya, we will be able to receive into us the energies of Neptune and Uranus whose impact is to rearrange the things in a beautiful way. We need to be in groups invoking the energies of Lord Maitreya and Master CVV so that the structures in the personal life and in the group life change to suit the new world order. And when we do it in groups, we are making a contribution to the work to which the Hierarchy is devoted. The Hierarchy is trying to build a new world order meaning the new world order is the work of Pluto. Causing the needed change is the work of Uranus, and giving the beauty and the bliss of the change and the changed situation is that of Neptune. So since we cannot directly relate to these profound planetary energies it's always good to build triangles with the Hierarchy. If you wish to work, for example with Neptune, it is better that we build a triangle with Lord Maitreya and work with Neptune. When you build triangles it's a sure way of realizing the energy and, secondly, we are insulated because the Master while he transmits he regulates and transmits so that we are not affected by the influx of the energy. That is the reason why for every planetary energy a Master stands as an outpost. So building a triangle with Neptune, Lord Maitreya and ourselves enables us to receive the energy. We are the lower point, Neptune and Lord Maitreya form the other two points of the triangle. Likewise for Uranus, you can build a triangle relating to Master CVV. Since we are all functioning with the inspiration of the Hierarchy it is beneficial that we relate to the related Master. And you can relate, as regards Pluto, it is again CVV in a higher dimension because in a very higher dimension Pluto is the higher dimension of Saturn, actually. So that energy is also carried by Master CVV. So if you work with these two Masters, building three different triangles you'd be doing a good work as disciples and this can be done at an individual or at a group level. And the ultimate structure is the bliss of Neptune in the head, the power of Uranus in the vertebral column, and a very strong sound base of Pluto. This is how the new Antahkarana has come to be during these Vaisakh full moon times. We needn't worry about the fall, it is needed that there should be that should fall. From 1945 there is a type of social, political and economic building in which there is less justice and more selfishness in it. So therefore if you wish a new order this old order has to give way. That is what is seen as the plan from this year for the next 12 years.

Question: What you said before I thought immediately that I have to tell the group so that we can build these triangles but can you give us some advice? How can we build the triangles?

Answer: Visualize Neptune and Maitreya in the head, in the cerebral system. It gives the required cool. He is the coolest one on the planet. Visualize your Sushumna, the vertebral column as permeated by Master CVV. Right from the brow centre up to Muladhara, and visualize that Pluto is causing a restructuring of your system with the help of Uranus. This we do individually. When we build groupally, in togetherness you do the same thing like individually then it brings in much more effectively the energy to all. So there are three parts in the body: the head, the upper torso and the lower torso. So relate them to the higher counterpart of CVV and Maitreya - with Maitreya in the head and CVV in the lower part. What we say in India, we prefer to take Master EK as the earth Kundalini, meaning the base of Muladhara. So it is like you build with Maitreya and Master CVV, then you have built everything because one is the head of the Himalayan Hierarchy, the other is the head of the Blue Mountain Hierarchy – North and South. And the column also relates to CVV because the work has to happen in terms of change from mundane to supermundane. He is the one who causes the needed change, and guides us into transparent ethereal planes. So your head also tends to be beautiful if you relate in your head to Lord Maitreya. He is the most beautiful one. All the attributes we think of, if you put together, is Maitreya. That is the Christ. And all the change that you can think of, whatever change you wish should be there for justice to prevail. Change is for justice, and Pluto is absolute justice. Absolute. He is called Yama in the scriptures. Yama means he causes death if you defer from justice. He is the most stringent regulator, he even regulates the sun of our solar system. Even the light of the sun is ... there is a demarcation for the light of the sun. Pluto does not let the light go beyond and affect other systems. He is such a regulator. Yama is a regulator. So he ensures that you are completely regulated. Master CVV has taken these two dimensions to do his work. He not only causes change. In that change he restores you to complete regulation in tune with the Law of Nature. So, therefore the entire Sushumna starting from the brow centre, you can think of CVV, and you can think of Lord Maitreya in the entire countenance. And then meditate looking for the needed change in you and in the group so that the bliss can be experienced by you. Starting with you, then with the group, then with your region, then with your nation, then think of the global situation. In these steps: personal – groupal – regional – national – global. In these five dimensions you can visualize that the energies are functioning. We as human beings can be not only a receptor of higher energies but also be gradually a transmitter of those energies.

Question: And the invocation, and this visualization ... ?

Answer: What we do here is just utter three times OM relating to each one. One OM to relate to the globe of your head (visualize Lord Maitreya and Neptune), second OM to relate to the spinal column (Master CVV and Uranus), third OM to the base of the spinal column (Master CVV and the energies of Pluto). So today it's resurrection, restructuring. From death yesterday we came to resurrection today ...

Question: Could you please repeat the last part of your speech about the utterance of OM?

Answer: Three times OM. First time OM visualizing the energy of Lord Maitreya and Neptune in the head, second time utter OM visualizing the energies of Master CVV and Uranus, third time OM master CVV and the energies of Pluto at the base of the spine. Instead of taking Master CVV two times you can take Count Saint Germain at the base of the spine. He is in close cooperation with Master CVV in rebuilding the structures. Count Saint Germain, he is also called the Prince Rákóczi.

Question: We are always living in seven planes. But that's only the cosmic physical planes. So there are $7 \times 7 = 49$ levels we are living in, and with the sublevels there are 343 levels. How can this be? A Master is living on the cosmic physical levels.

Answer: Yes, the master is living, as far as this planet is concerned, we are only concerned about our existence on this planet. So all the other seven planes, the higher planes, they exist in absolute form in all the seven centres. And in every centre there are seven centres. In every centre there are seven gradations from the cosmic to the cosmic physical. Cosmic para to cosmic physical. So in a centre there are seven centres. So when you imagine like that you imagine the cosmic man in you. If in the base centre there are seven centres, likewise in the sacral there are seven centres, gradations. In every one of the seven centres there are seven subcentres. Then you have the cosmic. First we work with the planetary man. That's what we normally because if we once touch the lotus at the head, on the top of the head, we already feel the bliss of existence, because it is the touch of the feet of the cosmic man. That is why we mostly relate to the feet of the Lord. The idea is the feet of the Lord have been worshipped all the time by the beings on the planet, because what is in the head of the Lord is also in the feet of the Lord. Do you understand? Because the topmost part of the head is Pisces, and that is what is at the bottom of the feet. Do you understand that?

In the feet you have the centres relating to the head. If you do a foot massage the head massage also happens. So if you relate to the feet you also have the entire cosmic person's touch. That's how the seers have simplified ... if you get the touch of the feet you get the touch of the entire cosmic person up to the head. Because in the feet all centres relating to you are there in your feet. So therefore the reference is always to the feet of the Lord. That's what we call the Lotus feet. The Lotus is said since it makes a beautiful form. In fact, if you see the pictures of Buddha and in the Padmasana the feet in the lower part it is bridging the toe and the sole up when you lift it up it's like the petal of a lotus. That's why the feet of the Lord are compared to the Lotus feet. The bliss of the touch of the cosmic person comes to us when we are able to contact the centre with the help of meditation. That is the final meditation. Actually, the seventh step in yoga which is called Dhyana relates to staying at the Ajna centre and relating to the thousand-petal lotus. That is the final step. It is the higher bridge. We say in our mystic mantrams: "higher bridge beginning". There are three bridges. First we need to build the bridge between the Solarplexus and the heart. That's the first bridge. The second bridge is from heart to Ajna via the throat. Throat is only a transit place but not an abode. From Ajna to Sahasrara. These are the steps. So, first step is to reach heart, second step is to reach Ajna, third step is to reach Sahasrara. Lord Krishna suggests do not stop when you reach the heart. Go up to Ajna. When you go up to Ajna, you're already king of your system. If you see the order in occult meditations also, entering into the heart, one is lead to be a king, to be coronated, with the crown on the head and the staff in the hand to rule not the world, but oneself. To rule oneself. So therefore we should aim to reach Ajna with the intermediate step of staying in the heart and moving to Ajna. In fact, when you start meditating with pulsation, and when pulsation leads you inside into the heart, deep in the chamber of the heart you contact subtle pulsation. And when you contact subtle pulsation it is like an ascending bird, it leads you automatically to Ajna and lets you in contact with the omnipresent, omnipotent, divine energies which are just abound. So either of the meditations, either contemplating of the brow centre or relating to respiration getting into pulsation, both would eventually lead to the centre relating to you. It is your original place as king. There it leads. This is your throne. Thereafter to rest you come to the heart. Heart is seen as the king's chamber for rest, and the throne is seen as the crown. Ajna is seen as the throne to rule oneself and the surroundings. So therefore the Scriptures say go to Ajna. Later you can function between Ajna and heart. That's how it is.

Question: I would like to ask a mundane question, in a sense, and then, if you could give the spiritual side of it. And it relates to something that Wolfgang initiated. We know that currently the financial system on the planet is breaking down. It's not very widely known, but there is a lot of physical gold being shipped from the west of the east and it is building up there, in India, Iran, China, Russia. So what I hear in financial circles is that due to this fact the power on the planet will also shift more to the east, as it has been on the east until now. So, if you could maybe elaborate on this and the purpose of it. Is it positive, because there was done a lot of injustice in the west, and maybe something is leveled out there. If you have an idea, what is the reason behind this?

Answer: Yes, there are many dimensions to it. Firstly, the power shifted from east to west. A part of the story is relegated to background. From far West and from east, Europe has accumulated a lot of karma, because it took away a lot from the east and a lot away from the far west which is America. They have taken all material wealth in terms of gold, in terms of precious stones through imperialism. Imperialism resulted in looting the east and also in looting the Far West. So that karma is there and that is what is causing the suffocation now, firstly. Secondly, when you grow in wealth you have a responsibility to share. The wealth that accumulates with you is not only for you. When you accumulate wealth and you hold it only for you the Lord does not agree. He would like that the one who accumulates, distributes and shares. If you see what the multinational companies do, very few companies share. All that they accumulate – very few share. Just 15 days ago there was an analysis of what is the attitude of multinationals in the east and multinationals in the west. The statistics show that multinationals from the east immediately indulge in social and charitable programs when there is growth. When they grow there is distribution in terms of social and charitable projects. E.g. any successful multinational in India, they set up excellent infrastructure like schools for the children, colleges for the youth and universities also. They also build very special-class hospitals, they contribute to social causes like building parks, building temples or whatever cause they have. In every way they try to participate and thereby share their prosperity with the region. You can go anywhere in India, every multinational is very strongly linked to a social and charitable program. This is specialty which is now being studied in the west. An Indian cannot but do that because he has learnt through life in his psyche that the willingness to share is there. So when the power shifts towards east, there is no danger. Because when power shifts to east the east does not hold it for itself. It always has this dimension. Be it China, be it India. This dimension is what is to be learnt in the west. In the west there is a compulsive charity through Christianity and that is now not there because many came out of Christianity. So what is the charity that a person carries out. It's not really big, although there are exceptions in the west like Bill Gates and another two or three persons who are funding Africa for development. But in their development there is always a hook. There is a hook that the person who receives the benefit should also be subservient to them. That is not charity. That's where by the end of the century the power shifts to the east. It is already in the air. It shifts to the east but it won't cause any danger to the world, because east now no more feels the need to hold things. It has learnt. Because when the west was not really so well developed, east was already very much developed. That is why people went in search of India and China and all that. Big saris could be kept in a matchbox by Chennais that kind of ability is there. A huge sari, a cotton like this they could fit it into a matchbox, put it into a pocket and move. So this knowledge, at one time, it gave them a lot of prosperity. And then they knew that prosperity could only be retained if it is dispersed among them. So therefore the shifting to east will not cause problem. If it remains in the west, it is a problem. If it remains in the west ... there is an oversense of security in the west. They think always that others will loot them. You know why this psychology is in them? Because they have looted. Because they have looted in the past generations they have a fear that they might be looted now. But that fear is not there with the ones who have been looted. So they know what it is to be looted, and what it is to loot. The two parts of the lessons have been learnt so therefore it is the scheme of hierarchy also. It is safer if the power is with the old man than with the young man. See, the west is seen as the powerful youth, the east is seen as an old man. So the old man has a lot of experience, he knows both sides of the coin. So it would be for the benefit of the whole globe, if it moves to the east. This is one dimension.

Second thing is, in the meanwhile the west also learns. The west is very fast in learning. Already there is a decision among the leading nations that they cannot survive unless they have the habit of charity. So by the end of this century, this century will be marked as the century of charity. That is how it is in the hierarchical circles. The 21st century is the century of charity. Charity means, I live well and I share the surplus with others. I don't hold things only for myself.

So therefore in that context, the technology is shared, although a lot of technology is suppressed. There are many things which have been invented. If released the entire globe would be joyful, but it is held and seen as a means of business. But they cannot hold anymore in that manner. Many inventions which are kept on hold will find their expression. So that all will be

So there is no danger for the humanity in so far as they learn to share with one another.

Number two: How long do we want to be selfish? To be selfish is not profitable. Even from the commerce angle, selfishness is not profitable. If you share, you are also shared with. This is the stage where management is with today. The management thinks of customer satisfaction, employee satisfaction, social satisfaction. These are all also factors for business growth. This is how it is getting into the realm of social and spiritual dimensions. Concurrently the west also learns it. Then there is no fear. So the fear of the United States is mostly baseless. It is the fear of their accumulation and their wealth, it is their wealth that is causing fear to them. And they are pushing the European countries into their fearphobia. And therefore there is a lot of fear in the west. So this fear is not there in the east. What is there to fear about? There is nothing to fear about. So this extra fear is gone once you start sharing. If people wish to come out of their fears the more they share their life with the surroundings the fear disappears. This is the lesson which the west very fast learns. And the work of the hierarchy is much more in the west than in the east to bring out this dimension.

So you don't have to worry. Nothing would happen to the west, west remains in strength at all times. There would be a much better rainbow bridge between the east and the west.

When it comes to rainbow bridge I also have one thought. Europe has missed the spirit due to its inability to pick up the global communication. The new age demands communication. Communication is an input for success and for growth. When you are not communicating you are not sharing what you have with others nor receive what other have to inform about. Throat center. Humanity is throat center. When we do not communicate well, there is no interplay of energies. There is no interchange of energies. So what happened in Asia it has built a rainbow bridge with America overlooking Europe. Why? Because Europe has not picked up the global language. The global language was decided to be English a hundred years ago or even more. And when there is resistance to rise to the global language and take it into their daily life they have lost the communication with the East. For example, I tell you in Germany there is a need of 30,000 to 40,000 software engineers. And they look to India in relation to software engineers. And the Indian software engineers are inclined to go to either England or America but not to Germany, and not to France, and not to Spain. Why? Because there is no communication medium. The medium of communication is missing. That's where Asia has gained a grand advantage thanks to the British rule. In China and in India. Today, an Indian child right from its third year they start speaking English along with their local mother tongue. So it's a great advantage. They are turning to be global citizens, global players right from childhood. But when you are stuck with French, German, Spanish, Italian and not willing to learn English you will reduce your playground to your own nation. And now the Aquarian age makes the globe very small. Today we call it a global village. The terminology it is taking us to greater dimensions to reduce big things to small things. So in a global village when you don't have the global language you cannot relate to the village well. This dimension has put off Europe from Asia substantially. It is not very well seen. That is why I always say when the hierarchy decided that English shall be the global language due to certain sound dimensions that that language produces they promoted it as a global language. For that reason Master Khut Humi went to Oxford University and learnt English in the 19th century. Even a Master of wisdom is willing to learn a new language. Why are we so resistant to learn English? So when you are not learning the needed language your throat centre is not functioning. You may have many things in the head, but without the throat there is no expression. This is where the east and west bridge is more being built with the far west than with the middle west. At least in our groups you should be prepared to learn English because the ones whom we follow they all speak excellent English. And Master CVV has even given mantras in English. It's not because there is a fad for English. It is the need. It is the need to learn this language whether you will like it or not.

Today there is a need to learn about internet and functioning with electronic media. It's a need. If you refuse you remain behind. So that's how the new dimensions is. To Madame Blavatsky it was such a difficult thing to learn English as a Russian. But you see how thoroughly she could express her views in a language which reaches every part of the globe. Had it been in Russian it may not have found expression at a global level. Or let it be Italian. So that's where we should see the spiritual dimension of the language. Actually, Asia was originally connected to Europe, not to America. Because all imperialism has emerged from Europe, isn't it? So they should be able to relate better with the earlier rulers, but they went far. Why? Because there is no language. So that is another dimension relating to the fusion between east and west – the language. And the west will not lose by the growth of the east. Because the dimension is, an eastern is easily contented and satisfied. It is in the psyche that they wish more to live than to attain. The wish to live is more than the wish to attain. There is no will to attainment, there is will to be. The will is mostly exercised to be in some comfort. The psyche is quickly satisfied. This more and more and more and more ... - this more business is in very small pockets in India. This more and more and more is an aspect of psyche living more in the mind and more in fear. In India people demonstrate living so simply that they don't care what is their next meal. It will come, they have such faith, it will come. Everything will come, will be. You don't have to go and fetch it, because the nature is so benevolent that it will come. All this is an old man's theory because he can't really move. So the man who runs all the time he doesn't believe in things coming to him. He believes in going and getting. So therefore that psychical difference is there and for that reason, you know I was in the United States when India demonstrated its nuclear power. While it has put off an atomic explosion of a nuclear bomb in May 1998. I was in the United States at that time. The people in the United States also celebrated India experimenting with the atomic bomb. They celebrated. You know, they did not fear. They said if India has nuclear power we don't have to worry. There were copious articles in the newspapers if India has the nuclear power we don't have to worry. This is because over 2,000 years there is no such thing as war in India. There is no aggression from India at any time. India if it has nuclear power it is only to secure itself from the neighbours, to secure itself from China, from Pakistan. If they hold the nuclear power they would not be the nation to use it. This is how they keep on writing, and the business lobby was just because India has been experimenting with the bomb you don't have to set sanctions on them because all our future business is in India. See, how it is seen ... If there is a revolver with a good policeman you don't have to worry, isn't it? If there is a pistol or a gun with a good policeman you don't have to worry. Why should you worry? If it is in the hands of some terrorist, you have to worry. So the psyche is very well known. The eastern psyche in this manner due to experience of life, they believe in living well but not in causing aggressions. There is no history that China occupied the Middle East or that India occupied the Middle East or Europe – no such stories. Therefore it is considered safe. In the Scriptures it is written that the strength of the west is in its dynamism, the strength of the east is in its poise. The strength of the undeveloped countries is in their tamas, or inertia. This is how humanity is seen in three qualities: poise, dynamism and inertia. The undeveloped countries are so undeveloped because of inertia. The ones with dynamism have grown from almost no wealth to a very great wealth. Poise is a balance of the two. It has no attitude to gather. Humanity is seen by the Masters of Wisdom in these three qualities. We find these three qualities in us also. Some are inert, some are very active, some are poised. And everyone sometimes he is very active, sometimes he takes rest, sometimes he is poised. So whatever dimensions are there, they are there at the microlevel and at the macrolevel.

We conclude with Wolfgang.

Question: So I want to start speaking English with you. But the consequence will be that my grammar is horrible Sri Kumar: that doesn't matter. What is important is communication, not the grammar.

Question: you talked about India and China and everything will be alright, but there are some destructive goals from some companies in the world, to control the water, the food – like Nestlé, Monsanto, Halliburton? - I think it is the modern black magic ...

Answer: It won't last. It will not last due to the incoming energies.

Wolfgang: Ah, okay I hope so ...

Answer: The time is not for such things any more. It goes totally against it. More and more there is a change in the governments... you will see a qualitative change in the governments. The slogan today is "less government, more governance". There is too much of government. The future is less government, more governance. The trust between the ruler and the citizen is taking to a different dimension. This you will see gradually in the next Jupiterian cycle. The Jupiterian cycle starts with Jupiter in Cancer. And then it concludes once again when it reaches Cancer. By that time many things change.

Question: Will it also change that in China, for example, children have to work really really hard and are also exploited? Will that change at all?

Answer: Yes, they should be properly educated. What is important is to inform them from the global perspective not from the local perspective. Let local and global be concurrently introduced to the children. It's not only local, we also make a global exposure to the children. By that they are well rooted and the thinking is globalized. That way the future child will be a great global player. And the newer the generation is the better is their equipment to grasp. Why? Because Manu is at work trying to induce every time a new model. Vaiwaswata Manu along with Master Morya and Master CVV – they formed a triangle to continuously work for better models. So a new child that comes is like a new model which has greater abilities than the earlier model. So they have the potential but how would we inform them is important.

Question: How do you see in this context the Chinese occupation of Tibet and Nepal?

Answer: Slowly it will go. Slowly it will go, because the theology is not properly appreciated and Tibetans also need this kind of karma to come down to normalcy. They have a feeling that they are very high. The land is high but the feeling should not be high. The more learned you are, the more humble you have to be. Nature has a plan to even out when something is very extra. You can be wise, but you cannot be headstrong. If you're really wise you don't care actually if someone occupies you. It's a dimension. Wisdom enables you to say, okay what is it that he does? It's the land, not me. Not my thought. That's how Indian wise men like Ramakrishna Paramahansa, Ramana Maharshi, Master CVV and many other masters of wisdom, they couldn't care less if the British were ruling. On the contrary, they said all that we need is a good rule whoever rules. If there is a national karma let us accept it. Wisdom gives you the ability to accept but not to rebel. That's why we peacefully sent away the English, isn't it? It's a peaceful means by which we sent away the English. And Tibet being wise they shouldn't go against them, they should build bridges of friendship with China instead of going and complaining in America and in India and in Europe about the China. In everything there is the other dimension. Especially when you think you are wise. a wise man should have tolerance, patience, silence, endurance, forbearance, friendliness .. these are all qualities if there is a crisis. So, it will come. It's a matter of ... China is also going through a psychological transformation. They know within themselves that they are very powerful. Inside they know that they are the most powerful people. They want all others to recognize that. A king requires praise. If you praise the king, you get the bounties. If you fight the king, you get killed. That is wisdom. China is satisfying its personality by this unprecedented growth in terms of wealth. It's an act of recognition. And it is one nation which speaks less. So therefore many fear because it speaks less. A man who doesn't speak is more dangerous than a man who speaks. So he purposely created a fear around the world but I don't think in the present context that it would be making any further annexations and aggressions. They want fair and equal play with the superpowers. That's all. I'm as much a player as you. And there will be no captain for the team. Let all be playing. It takes some more time, but it is on the anvil. Once you're rich you have no communism. You know that? Communism prevails where there is poverty. Religious faith prevails where there is poverty. These are the two dimensions. If the daily needs are fulfilled, when the minimum personality needs are fulfilled, man turns more to knowledge from faith. Likewise, communism is a kind of psychical satisfaction of those who don't have. Now they are getting wealthy, when they get wealthy, communism fades away. There will be much more transparency coming. All that we wish will happen by the end of this century. By that time we are in other bodies. The cycles of time as we see and as we see at a global level, the dimensions totally different.

Question: We are talking about global issues today. I wonder about the global population issue: 7 billion people and we are growing exponentially every day. What is to be done?

Answer: Nothing needs to be done. Nothing needs to be done, there is a lot of land on the planet which remains uninhabited. A lot. The habitations of the humans is much less compared to the land that is available. There is so much available. There we really don't have to worry because it can accommodate much more.

Question: Is there a limit?

Answer: I don't think there is a limit because Nature balances it. Nature balances. Nothing goes beyond Nature's plan. It's only because people want to concentrate in only specific areas. There you feel the density of population. But in between two cities there are so many forests. Forests are more than the cities we have. And there is uninhabited land in undeveloped countries. There is huge potential. And there is the fear that we won't have enough water and all that ... When you do not understand the nature's plan it looks like that. The Nature is resourceful, we should distinguish between resource and a source. Resource and source. Source as mind sees it is limited. Resource is, as we keep using, there is replenishment. Nature continuously replenishes through recycling many things. A tree in a season gives fruit, but then again it gives and again it gives and again it gives. And before it concludes its life it gives birth to so many seeds which are again giving fruits. Like that there is what is called recycling and replenishment which is called a resource. Just like a well. You take water and again the spring comes, you take water and again the spring fills. The lakes and the wells and the rivers, they are not limited as we see because we don't think of the ocean waters. Everything is a resource but not a source when it comes to Nature. Mind only thinks in terms of exhaustion but if you go beyond mind there is no such thing as exhaustion. So the wisdom says rely on the resource but not on the source.
